Commercial Club Will Make
Effort to Bring Them
Here For Outing.

WORTH STRIVING FOR.

Councilman Davis Will Go to Frankfort as Club Representative.

If there is a fighting chance for Hopkinsville to secure the encampment of the State troops, we are going to have it.

At the called meeting of the Commercial Club Thursday night it was determined by those present to put forward every effort to bring the encampment here this year.

The crowd had on its hunting costume and is going out for game in earnest, and it seems that the club is game enough to go for what is now in sight—something that will yield large returns on what will have to be expended in order to bring the soldiers here while on their summer outing.

Every business man in Hopkinsville who wants to add to his business should put his shoulder to the wheel and help the club in the effort to bring the military here. The club cannot succeed without the co-operation of the merchants and citizens generally. The strongest argument that can be made for the support of the merchants is that they are really the only ones who will reap any financial reward by bringing the troops here. If the club does not have the hearty support of the business men particularly, and the people generally, they had just as well throw up their hands and cease to exist as a club of men who have the desire, but not the ability, to help

SECRETARY LUCIAN H. DAVIS.

the town in future development—just because they do not have the encouragement of its citizens. Look the conditions squarely in the face and you will readily see that this is correct; and if this is true, then Hopkinsville does not deserve the encampment or anything else calculated to fill the tills of moss-back merchant or any one with not energy enough to help along a monument that will ultimately be of great help to us as a city.

Hopkinsville is the logical place for the encampment. Other cities of our population have had the encampment and want it again. Henderson is, probably, our closest competitor. She knows by experience the great advantages of having the soldiers and is putting in great work for again securing the encampment.
The Adj. General we believe is leaning toward us, while there is not the least prejudice existing among the military or any of the state officers to prevent our people having a square deal in the matter—in fact, we might say that the officers of the state as well as the military are rather inclined to have the encampment here. Besides there are a few things that Hopkinsville can pull that other

The Great Democrat Who Will Be Chosen to Lead His Party Again in 1908.

WILLIAM JENNINGS BRYAN.

Mr. Bryan is now in Berlin, Germany, on his trip around the world.
He will return to the United States Sept. 1, to find himself practically nominated for President in 1908, the boom for him having reached such proportions that it is conceded by all classes of Democrats that he will be nominated again at the next National Convention and with far brighter prospects for election than ever before.

candidates for the encampment can not get hold of, and if they did would do them no good.

Hopkinsville will go into the race prepared to comply with every condition required by those empowered to make the selection of a camping place. When some of the officers were here not long since they were shown the ground that would be given them if they would pitch their tents in our midst for a season and it was pronounced satisfactory. The gentleman who has control of the Sharp property notified the Commercial Club that the field could be used without cost—that the soldiers were more than welcome to it.

In order to make the field what is required it will be necessary to put in about a dozen arc lights, extend the water pipe through the center, and make several attachments, besides a few other matters of but little expense—the whole thing costing considerably less than a thousand dollars. This expense was practically arranged for at the meeting Thursday night.

It is estimated that the soldiers during their stay here and their visitors should spend not less than $35,000. Isn't this worth the effort of securing? It's up to our people to go after it, and to go in earnest.
The military are not out handing around invitations (?) to be allowed to go into camp anywhere. It is just the reverse. Live towns are doing the inviting and wire-pulling.

Mr. Lucian Davis was appointed Thursday night by the club to go to Frankfort and present Hopkinsville's claims for the encampment. Mr.
Davis is just the man for the duty.
He is competent in every way to represent the club and the city and we hope through his influence and the support of the people he may be able to get the encampment.

New Secretary.

At the meeting of the Commercial Club Thursday night, Mr. Lucian H.
Davis was elected Secretary of the Club, vice H. M. Dalton, deceased.
The Executive Committee recently selected him for the place and the election was by unanimous vote.

Squirrel Law Out.

Yesterday was the beginning of the open season for squirrels and a good many people from the city made trips to the country in the effort to bag a few. There are plenty of them in the woods.

Slowly Improving.

Mr. John B. Trice, who was operated on for appendicitis Monday continues to improve and his condition is no longer considered critical.

Manager McPherson says he will not arrange for a big musical entertainment this summer.

WAGES OF SIN.

Three Men Lose Their Lives
Over a Bad Woman.

Louisville, Ky., June 14.—Clarence Sturgeon shot and killed W. J. Brunner, aged twenty-six; Wilford Mc-Michael, aged forty-five, and Ed. Blackerby, aged about fifty, in front of the resort of Daisy Jackson, at 431 Eleventh street last night. Sturgeon emptied his five-chamber revolver, and every shot took effect. The men on whom he fired ran to the corner of Eleventh and Jefferson streets, a short distance away, where they fell in a heap, Brunner and McMichael dead, and Blackerby so nearly so that he was unable to speak when assistance reached him. He was taken to the city hospital, but died without ever being able to make a statement.

Sturgeon's infatuation for the woman, Daisy Jackson, appears to be responsible for the triple tragedy.
Except the woman, no one saw the affray, and no satisfactory statement can be gotten from her.

MRS. ELMER COATS

Passes Away After an Illness of a Few Weeks.

Mrs. Maud F. Coats, wife of Mr.
Elmer Coats, member of the Anderson-Fowler Drug Company, died Wednesday evening at her home on West Eighteenth street of peritonitis, after an illness of about two weeks.
She was eighteen years old, and was formerly Miss Maud Fowler, daughter of Mr. D. E. Fowler and sister of Judge W. T. Fowler and Mr. L. E. Fowler.

Mrs. Coats had been married less than a year and is survived by her husband and an infant daughter.
She was a member of the Christian church and a woman held in the highest esteem by a host of friends.
Funeral services were held at the residence by Eld. T. D. Moore and Dr. J. L. Fogartie Thursday afternoon and the interment took place in Hopewell cemetery.

CERULEAN CITIZEN

Touched for Cash While Waiting for a Train.

Daniel Ladd, of near Cerulean, was robbed of $75 at the depot in Princeton Monday. He was enroute home from a visit to his daughter in McCracken county. Two negroes, who were with Mr. Ladd during the stop-over, were arrested and indicted, Circuit Court being in session at that time. Nearly all the money was recovered.

CITY FULL OF HOME COMERS

Visitors Estimated at 30,000
In Louisville This Week.

MUCH FINE ORATORY.

Imposing Parade on Thursday Night With Fifteen Floats.

Louisville, Ky., June 15.—The festivities and formalities of Home Coming week are still in progress.
The crowds in the city are immense.
At the meeting yesterday 1,000 girls sat on the seats behind the platform, all dressed in white.

Prof. E. H. Mark presided and Rev. E. L. Powell pronounced the invocation.

R. W. Miller, of Richmond, delivered the formal address of welcome.
Mrs. Marion Foster Welch, daughter of Stephen C. Foster, who wrote "My Old Kentucky Home," unveiled the statue of her father made by J.
L. Roop.

Jerry South, of Mountain Home, Ark., spoke on "Kentuckians Abroad."

J. Victor Foster, of Fulton, N. Y., then sang his uncle's ever popular song.

A great parade was given at night, presenting scenes from primeval times to the present in the state's development. There were fifteen floats.

The number of Home Comers in the city is estimated at 30,000.

KILLING IN TODD.

One Farmer Shoots Another Dead Before His Family.

Elkton, Ky., June 14.—In the presence of his wife and children, seated in a buggy in a public road, Clifton Murray, a prominent farmer, near Daysville, was shot and instantly killed by his brother-in-law, Lee Clifton, about four miles East of Elkton. Clifton immediately came to town and gave himself up.

Domestic troubles between Murray and his wife, who is Clifton's sister, is supposed to be the cause of the tragedy.
